A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

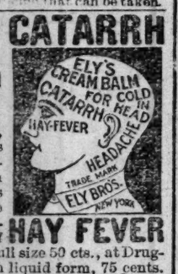
Gives Relief at Once.

It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.



HAY FEVER

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

THE GRIDIRON CLUB.

The Gridiron Club opened its dinner-giving season Saturday night by giving its annual fall dinner at the New Willard in Washington. As is usual with the club, the evening was crowded with clever skits and political hits. "Nature fakirs," "undesirable citizens," the test ride of the army and the Japanese wrestler all had part in the evening's entertainment, and all were enjoyed by the crowd of distinguished men present. The club at times may have seemed severe on several prominent men, but the hits were all in good spirit and up-to-date, and those lampooned took it all good naturedly. There were over 225 guests and members at the table, and a pleasant reception took place in the reception hall before the old-fashioned dinner bell announced that the dinner was ready. President Blythe, accompanied by Vice President Fairbanks, headed the party and marched into the large banquet hall on the top floor of the New Willard.

When President Samuel Blythe lit up the huge electric gridiron in the banquet hall the absence of the preliminary cocktail was emphasized. Vice President Fairbanks bore the brunt of this stunt, for in front of him stepped a Gridironer and sang a ditty about an Indiana dinner where cocktails were served, with subsequent regrets. Mr. Fairbanks was then allowed a rating of buttermilk.

A class in nature-faking through questions and answers developed a logical connection with "Octopus" and Wall street. Also that if it is true that money talks, "President Roosevelt must be the richest man in the world."

"John Barrett ain't broke," remarked one of the class.

The story that George Washington threw a dollar across the Potomac was declared not to be a nature fake, because Secretary Cortelyou had thrown $20,000,000 to Wall street. A song which put Secretary Cortelyou in the attitude of quietly waiting to be called to the presidency, brought laughter, likewise a response from the secretary.

"Why are the ships going to the Pacific?" was answered in many ways, chief among which was to seat Secretary Metcalf in the Senate.

A Japanese wrestler, a game of dice, and an aggregation of "undesirable citizens," were all jests aimed at the White House, and were productive of much merriment.

The new State of Oklahoma made its appearance with democratic Senators and Representatives and an electoral vote for Bryan.

Chairman New, of the republican national committee, was required to "think it over," and then pranced in on hobby-horses a squad of equestrian-tested army officers.

"We will now drink to the next President of the United States," solemnly announced President Blythe, after he had gotten to their feet Vice President Fairbanks, Speaker Cannon, Secretary Cortelyou and Senator Knox. Then was sung a ditty, which conjured with the names of all the presidential possibilities.

A song followed which gave great admiration to the versatility of Ambassador Bryce, but kindly warned him that with it all he would be found wanting unless he learned the presidential game of tennis.

Another song told that Johnson, Minnesota's democratic governor, had met Bryan face to face, and therefore he no longer had a presidential boom.

The menu souvenir was a collection of clearing house certificates, issued by authority of the Gridiron Club clearing house association. There was a certificate for each course, and each set forth a bit of humor.

The initiation as a member of the club of James P. Hornaday was also made a matter of entertainment.

The guests of the club included Vice-President Fairbanks, Speaker Cannon, Secretary Cortelyou, Postmaster-General Meyer, Secretary Straus, Secretary Wilson, the Japanese Ambassador, the British Ambassador and several Senators' and Representatives.

A Real Wonderland.

South Dakota, with its rich silver mines, bonanza farms, wide ranges and strange natural formations, is a veritible wonderland. At Mound City, in the home of Mrs. E. D. Clapp, a wonderful case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughing spells occurred every five minutes," writes Mrs. Clapp, "when I began giving Dr. King's New Discovery, the great Medicine, that saved his life and completely cured him" Guaranteed for coughs and colds, throat and lung troubles, by all druggists. 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," in an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles, too, and and chilblain disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by druggists, 25c.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, DEC. 9, 1907.

FROM a summary prepared by the Secretary of the Treasury of the estimated appropriations required by all the departments for the next fiscal year it appears that they amount to $766,508,273, which is $56,220,000 more than the total appropriated for the current year. The increased demands come almost exclusively from the War and Navy Departments. The Departments of Foreign Affairs and of Justice each request a few hundred thousand additional, and the Department of Commerce a little over a million. The War Department demands about $36,000,000 and the Navy about $26,000,000 more than was appropriated to them for the current year; all the other estimates are reduced. Besides the large increase proposed in the current expenditures of the navy for 1909, Secretary Metcalf presents for the consideration of Congress a building programme covering thirty new vessels of various types, including four battleships and involving, an ultimate outlay of $69,000,000. The Philadelphia Record says the indorsement of such a programme by Congress would be a public scandal.

A BILL to remove the tariff duties on timber, lumber, bark or wood pulp, in consonance with the recommendation of the President's message, has been introduced in the House by Mr. McHenry, the new democratic member from the Sixteenth Pennsylvania district, who has begun his congressional career with the distinction of being appointed a member of the important banking and currency committee. McHenry is earnestly in favor of early revision of the more iniquitous schedules of the tariff and will urge with all his power to bring this about, his pulp bill being the first step. The bill has been referred to the ways and means committee, which is absolutely dominated by the "stand-patters." It will there be buried for the session, unless the tariff revision republicans will join with the democrats in a movement to force the hands of the "stand-patters" and compel them to do something for the relief of the great newspaper industry of the country from the tyranny of the paper trust.

THE question of the low-necked gown has received fresh attention in New York since the organization of the Philocalian Club a few weeks ago. The Philocalian Club—the name means "love of the beautiful"—has a membership of twenty-four women, all but four of whom are married. Its efforts, says the president, Dr. Adelaide Wallerstein, will be directed against factors which tend to demoralize society, and its work will include more practicing than preaching. Among the things of which the club does not approve are the low-necked gown, the cocktail, the hansom and after-theater suppers. The twenty-four members have pledged themseves never to appear in public wearing a bodice cut lower than the callarbone. It is this circumstance in particular which has brought fame to the club. But for that, it is conceivable that the new organization would not have been heard of outside of the circle of its members and their friends.

MR. H. M. DAUGHERTY, of Columbus, Ohio, while in Washington Saturday night announced his candidacy for the Senate to succeed Mr. Foraker. Mr. Daugherty is one of the young republican leaders of the State and is the first republican actually to announce his candidacy to succeed Mr. Foraker. He has taken advantage of the sentiment he found at the meeting of the national committee in Washington to make public his ambition.

ONLY those who have paid their capitation tax by tomorrow can vote at the election next June.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Dec. 9.

Cleveland, Louisville, Chicago, and Denver are entered in the race for the democratic national convention to be run the latter part of this week when the members of the democratic national committee meet here to choose the time and place. Present indications are that Louisville will be scratched, leaving only Cleveland, Chicago and Denver to face the starter when the flag falls. The action of the courts in declaring unconstitutional the $10,000 appropriation of the city council to secure the convention, is said to have proven too great a weight for the Kentucky metropolis to carry. Mayor Tom L. Johnson will be in charge of Cleveland, and it is reported that he will have $100,000 in his pocket when he arrives here next Thursday, as an earnest offer of Cleveland. Denver, too, will have $100,000. The Colorado delegation will bring the money in the form of gold coin. Just what inducement Chicago will present is not revealed. Although it is now boldly stated by many democratic prophets that the convention will be held early in June, and before the republican convention at Chicago, the more conservative do not want the gathering to take place until after the republican standard bearer is chosen.

The transportation companies have been cited to appear before the State Corporation Commission in Richmond, January 8th, at which time amendments to the rules regarding demurrage, car service and switches will be taken up by the commission. Thomas Dugan, a gravedigger in Shockoe Cemetery, Richmond, came near being buried alive yesterday in a grave which he had dug for the body of another man. The grave, which had been excavated caved in on Dugan, burying him up to his armpits. Fortunately, the dirt fell in such a way that Dugan was pinioned in his tracks, his head remaining above ground, so that he could continue to breathe. Albert Keith, a fellow-workman, heard the cries of the imprisoned man and went to his rescue. The man was in a very exhausted condition from his experience.

BANK LOOTED.

Finding that the concern had been systematically looted by its directors and favored borrowers, the State Bank Commissioners have asked Attorney General Webb to arrange for the appointment of a receiver for the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company, of San Francisco, which suspended business several weeks ago. It was found by the commissioners that instead of legal reserves of $1,800,000, 20 per cent. of their $9,000,000, they had but $400,000. The bank commissioners say that the bank had indulged in reckless financiering. It had made too many investments in enterprises whose paper could not be realized upon. It is said that out of $9,000,000 assets the bank would be able to realize only $2,000,000 with which to pay its liabilities to depositors.

It is by no means certain that he will return, and in case he does not his successor will probably be Sir Henry Howard, the British minister at The Hague.

He went to London and when arrested was known as William Arthur Newman.

Recovering the Bodies.

Monongah, W. Va., Dec. 9.—Double rows of brown trenches in the little local cemetery will soon mark the last resting place of the 400 victims of the explosion which destroyed mines 6 and 8 on Friday. Over the heartrending protests of the widowed and orphaned it has been necessary for the health authorities to act to preserve the health of the living and orders for the immediate burial of the victims have been issued. The work of recovering the bodies still in the depths is being pushed as rapidly as possible. Most of the bodies are now decomposing and this renders the work of the searching parties doubly hard. Up to last night 43 bodies had been taken out and it is certain that today more than one hundred that are already in sight will be removed to the surface and buried.

Sweden's New King.

Stockholm, Sweden, Dec. 9.—Gustav V. the new king of Sweden, is in conference with the members of his ministry today, making his plans for the immediate future and preparing a formal proclamation to be issued to his people within the next day or two. His majesty having requested Premier Landman to continue the present cabinet, it is assumed that no change is to be anticipated from King Oscar's policies. Though there will be no formal period of mourning and the theatres, with the exception of the royal opera, reopen today as usual, the deepest grief prevails throughout the whole country. No date has been set for the coronation for the new king.

Notified of His Mother's Death.

Boulogne, France, Dec. 9.—The trans-Atlantic liner President Grant, with William H. Taft, the American Secretary of War, among its passengers, entered port here today. The sub-prefect immediately went aboard and presented the French government's respects. Secretary Taft responded in a graceful speech. He has been notified of his mother's death and showed plainly the weight of grief. Mrs. Taft, who left her husband at Hamburg to journey to Boulogne by land, joined her husband today.

Mrs. Taft, and other passengers for the President Grant narrowly escaped death in going aboard the liner in the harbor tender, which was almost upset by heavy seas.

Wants Soldiers Recalled.

Goldfield, Nev., Dec. 9.—Col Reynolds, commanding the federal troops brought here to keep order during the miners' strike, is believed to have decided to recommend the soldiers' immediate recall. It is practically certain that an attempt will be made to resume operation of the mines with non-unionists Wednesday. The lower levels are already filling with water and much longer delay will involve immense losses.

The scene at the various mines in Goldfield today presented almost a warlike appearance at the barnps of the United States troops.

Drowned By Their Grandmother.

Boston, Dec. 9 —Two small children of Frank Huntley, aged 6 and 4, were drowned in the bath tub today by their grandmother, Mrs. Emma A. Huntley, at her home in Somerville. New York Stock Market.

New York, Dec. 9, 11 a. m.—The market during the first hour presented very irregular movements. A number of industrials were extremely weak, while important retail road stocks showed decided strength and in some instances made material advances. Outside of a few stocks the tone was generally strong and prices moved up on what was considered inside buying in many cases.

Government bonds unchanged; other bonds firm.

BOTH DEAD.

William White, who shot himself through the head last Thursday in Washington after he had fatally wounded Mrs. Annie Moore, died at the Emergency Hospital in that city Saturday afternoon, about forty-eight hours after the death of the woman. The passing of White brought the investigation of the double tragedy to a close, acting Coroner Glazebrook deciding he would not hold an inquest. White was found in Mrs. Moore's apartment Thursday morning with a bullet wound in his head. Mrs. Moore was on the floor near by with a bullet in her brain. Neighbors informed the police that White had entered the house about twenty minutes before the shooting, and investigation disclosed that the revolver was his property. Mrs. Moore formerly lived in this city and White was well known here.

MR. CARLIN.

The Washington correspondent of the Richmond Times Dispatch says:

There is good reason to believe Mr. Carlin will be appointed to the Committee on District of Columbia, a berth he very much desires, as his district lies contiguous to Washington. Mr. Carlin is believed to have made himself pretty solid with Mr. Williams, the minority leader, who recommends democratic assignments to committees, by the introduction of the resolution adopted by the democratic conference last week making it mandatory upon the leader to recommend committee assignments. This resolution was adopted as a substitute for the resolution proposed by Representative Jones, of Virginia, declaring that the leader should not make the assignments.

Speaker Cannon is the first to open presidential headquarters in Chicago.

Badly Mixed Up.

Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience; he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed for blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by all druggists, fifty cents.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Dec. 9.

SENATE.

Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, fired a broadside in the Senate today. He introduced two resolutions calling upon the finance committee for information. One directed it to report whether clearing house certificates have been issued contrary to law; whether they were not subject to a ten per cent. tax and whether the law would permit warehouse certificates to be issued based on tobacco, wheat and cotton crops stored for marketing. The other inquired into the warrants of law for the issurance of certificates of indebtedness by the Secretary of the Treasury; the justification for the sale of Panama bonds; and whether "is any legislation necessary to protect the people and business interests of the country from the issue of unlawful money if clearing house certificates are such, and to prevent the illegal increase of the public debt in time of peace."

The South Carolinian asked immediate consideration for his resolution. Upon a suggestion from Senators Lodge and Allison, that action should be postponed until the chairman of the finance committee could be present, which would be tomorrow. Mr. Tillman let the resolutions go over.

The projected general financial debate, which has been fomenting for a week on the democratic side of the chamber, was also deferred until tomorrow.

At 1:25 the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

The House was in session only 10 minutes today. Speaker Cannon announced that he would not name the committees until next week, therefore no business can be transacted. Charles Landis, Indiana; Adam Bede, Minnesota; Pollard, Nebraska, and Cowdrey (Mo.) were sworn in as members. Republican Floor Leader Payne moved that adjournment today be taken until Thursday. Democrats who opposed a session Thursday, owing to the fact that the democratic national committee will be in session on that day, feebly contested the motion, but lost on a rising vote of 196 to 55.

THE LATE JOHN HARPER.

The Natchez, Miss., Democrat has the following editorial on the late John Harper, a former Alexandrian, who died in that city on the night of November 28th: The death of Capt. John Harper creates another void in the ranks of our prominent citizens that will be felt in the community. He was a man among men, one whom all men admired for his high rule of life and the quiet, even-tempered manner in which he adhered to what he deemed to be the truth and the right. He belonged more to the old than to the new school, and, though deeply religious and superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday School for fourteen years, he never intruded his views of life upon others unless the subject was introduced by another and the sincerity of his belief was evidenced by his every expression. A man of the highest integrity, his word was taken everywhere as being as the most solvent bond, and so it was, for Capt. John Harper was too correct in his every walk of life to mislead one in any direction or under any circumstance.

For fourteen years he served as deputy under the lamented Capt. Jas W. Lambert, when the latter was sheriff of Adams county, and in the late years of Capt. Lambert's life he gave frequent expression to the unlimited confidence which had been reposed in his deputy with the feeling at all times that with Capt. Harper, a confidence was the most honored trust that one could repose in another A member of the Masonic order and one of the most prominent members of the Woodmen of the World, no man lived a more perfect fraternal life than he. He reflected honor upon every organization of which he was a member, for he was as pure in thought and word as the babe in its mother's arms who has yet to speak its first word. This is the man to whose memory the merchants of Natchez will pay tribute today by closing their doors during the hour of his funeral.

Mr. Harper is survived by his wife, Mrs. Florence Bromley Harper, two sons, William Wells and John Harper, and five daughters, Mrs. Emma H. Dunbar, Misses Katie Belle, Carrie Williams Mary Louise and Florence B. Harper.

COUNTY SUPERVISORS.

At a meeting of the Alexandria county board of supervisors at the county courthouse on Saturday it was decided to open a public road between Ballston and Cherrydale, a distance of about one mile. It was announced that the parties through whose property the proposed road will pass had donated the right of way free of cost with the exception of Miss Mary F. Wallace. The latter was cited to appear before the supervisors next Thursday and show cause why the land needed should not be condemned.

A contract for a concrete bridge at Braddock Heights was awarded to Mr. Torreyson. A large number of bills were passed on and ordered paid.

DEATH OF WM. H. LAMBERT.

Mr. Wm. H. Lambert, after a few weeks illness, died at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. R. D. Marshall, on south Pitt street, on Saturday night at 10:15 o'clock. The deceased had been in an unconscious condition for several days before the end came. He had been a sufferer from organic disease, and from the time he was prostrated it was seen that his death was a matter of but a short while. Mr. Lambert leaves three children—Mr. A. W. Lambert, of St. Louis; Mrs. R. D. Marshall, of this city, and Mrs. Frank Bell, of Savannah, Ga. His wife died about two years ago.

William Henry Lambert was the eldest son of the late Benjamin H. Lambert, and was born in this city nearly 79 years ago. In his youth he was identified in business pursuits with his father and the late Lewis McKenzie, who conducted the commission and ship chandlery business on the Strand, between Prince and Duke streets. During this period he made several voyages in vessels belonging to the firm, at one time having gone around Cape Horn. In the year 1849, when the California gold fever was raging, he visited that State, remaining there a short time. Upon his return he re-entered his father's office and engaged actively in business pursuits. The elder Lambert was at that time conducting business in his own name, Mr. McKenzie having withdrawn from the firm and opened a commission house on Union street. The subject of this notice became one of the most prominent citizens almost as soon as he reached manhood, and was identified with the business interests of Alexandria. He became an officer in the Bank of the Old Dominion and shortly after the war when that institution was succeeded by the Citizens' National Bank he became the cashier, a position he held up to a few years ago when he virtually retired from active business, though he held the office of vice president of the bank at the time of his death. Mr. Lambert never sought any political position, and the only office, it is believed, he ever held was councilman from the First ward shortly after the civil war. He served but one term, not desiring re-election. The deceased had been a Mason from the time he reached his majority, having been a member of Alexandria-Washington Lodge. He filled all the positions in this lodge, as well as those in the Grand Lodge of Virginia, and up to the time of his death he was probably the oldest Grand Master living. Mr. Lambert was also a member of Mount Vernon Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, and of Old Dominion Commandery, Knights Templar, of this city. He was also Past Grand High Priest of the Grand Chaplain Royal Arch Masons in the State.

The deceased was the last survivor of the Alexandrians who were injured by a falling wall during the memorable fire in Turner and Dowell's china store November 17, 1855, by which seven men were killed. Mr. Lambert during his long life enjoyed the confidence and respect of all with whom he mingled, and his death is sincerely regretted by the entire community. He had been a consistent Christian throughout life, and it can be truly said that he followed the purpose of walking with a conscience void of offense toward God and man.

A few days before his death, during the vigil of the night, with his family around his bedside expecting momentarily the end he suddenly raised himself upon his pillow and while yet unconscious but with his face lighted by a most pleasing smile, he delivered a beautiful Masonic address, concluding by saying that he saw the gates of the Celestial Lodge open for him and wished he could describe to his brethren the beauties he saw therein. He then sank back exhausted and never rallied again.

His funeral took place this evening at 3 o'clock from the Second Presbyterian Church and was very largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. J. R. Sevier. The remains were escorted to the grave by Alexandria-Washington Loage of Masons and by a delegation from Old Dominion Commandery.

The interment was with Masonic services conducted by Dr. T. B. Cochran, Master of Alexandria-Washington Lodge. Several members of the Grand Lodge were also present. The pallbearers were A. G. Uhler and R. W. Arnold, representing Alexandria-Washington Lodge; August Oehlert, and Edgar Warfield, Andrew Jackson Lodge; H. K Field and C. A. Simpson, Mt. Vernon Chapter, and J. E. Alexander and E. E. Downham, Old Dominion Commandery.

ARREST OF RELIC HUNTER.

A man was taken in custody yesterday afternoon in St. Paul's cemetery by Sexton William T. Emerson charged with cutting a piece of marble from the slab over the "Female Stranger's" grave. Two women were with the man. The offender was conducted to the station house where he left $20 collateral for his appearance this morning in the Police Court. When the case was called Mr. Emerson made his statement, and when the prisoner was asked if he had anything to say in his defense, he stated that the sexton had told substantially what had happened. He said he had broken off a piece of stone about as large as a peanut kernel which he desired as a souvenir and was not conscious that he was committing an offense. Justice Caton quoted the law which provides for a fine of not more than $100 nor more than six months confinement in jail, but said that inasmuch as the prisoner had plead guilty, and as this was the first case concerning the desecration of a grave he had been called upon to dispose of, he would be lenient. He therefore imposed a fine of $10, but said that should similar cases come before him he would be more severe on offenders. The man said he was a native of a southern city.

MIDGETS SENTENCED

George Midgets, colored, convicted of murder by the Corporation Court last April, was this morning sentenced by Judge Barley to be hanged on Friday, the 17th of next January.

Midgets was conducted into the court room and placed in the dock shortly after 10 o'clock. He was in charge of Sergeant Cox and Warden Candler, being handcuffed to the latter. The prisoner has grown full whiskers since his first appearance in the Corporation Court last spring although he said at that time he could not raise a beard. Midgets at first lapsed into reveries, but when Chief Goods and Warden Candler entered into conversation with him, he laughed and appeared for the time not to realize his certain fate. He was ready to talk and engage in pleasantry every time any one approached him.

The court was not called to order until 11:10, by which time a large crowd had gathered in the room. Mr. N. S. Greenaway, the clerk, ordered Midgets to stand and show cause why the sentence of death should not be passed upon him.

Midgets, apparently collected, arose and said he had something to say concerning the sentence which was about to be pronounced. He began by observing he hardly knew what to say. He said he was disgusted with his own life, which had been a failure, and referred to a picture of his victim (the late C. T. Smith) which appeared in a Washington paper during his trial last April, and asserted that the man was not his victim. Midgets said he would not talk of his past life. The world would never become acquainted with it. After his death it made no difference what the world said about him. He had during life done some things which displeased him, but he had never taken human life. He said he had no fear of death, as he had been preparing for it, and believed that though a man die he shall live again. He asserted that the people had made a sad mistake in his case, although all made mistakes. One witness, however, he affirmed, had knowingly sworn falsely in his case.

At the conclusion of Midgets' statement Judge Barley pronounced sentence as follows:

"George Midgets, you have received a fair and impartial trial by a jury of twelve men—as capable and fair a jury as was ever summoned in this city. They found you guilty. It is now my sad duty to pass the sentence of death upon you. It is my order that you be taken to the city jail and there confined until Friday, the 17th day of January, 1908, on which day between the hours of 6 a. m. and 12 m. you be taken to the jail yard and there hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may God have mercy on your soul."

Midgets was then handcuffed to Mr. Craven Peyton and was returned to the jail in charge of Warden Candler.

The crowd later left the court room.

SECOND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The interest in the protracted meetings now being held in the Second Presbyterian Church reached a high water mark yesterday. The church was filled at the 11 o'clock service, when Rev. Dr. Flinn delivered an interesting and edifying sermon from the 14th chapter of the Gospel of John. Mr. Tom Harrison, a railroad engineer, delivered an address at the men's meeting in the afternoon. There was a large attendance, some of the audience being railroad men and mechanics, and great interest was shown by all present. At the close of the address about 25 men signified their interest in the Gospel. At night every seat in the auditorium and gallery was filled, while many occupied seats in the lecture room where they could not see the minister, but could hear him. Chairs were placed in the aisles and in front of the pulpit to accomodate the overflow of persons desiring to hear the Gospel. Dr. Flinn delivered one of the most powerful sermons heard in Alexandria for many years. He preached from the Gospel of Luke, taking for his subject the man suffering from demoniac possession. The Dailey quartet rendered beautiful thrilling vocal music at all the meetings.

At noon today the many workers interested in the evangelistic meetings at the church went out all over the city holding prayer meetings in shops and factories and stores. Meetings were held for fifteen minutes at the Belle Pre Glass Works, The Old Dominion Glass Works, Leadbeaters' drug house, the Alexandria Laundry, the Paff Shoe Factory, the Bliss Silk Works, Henry K. Field's, and the Southern Machine Shops. Tomorrow the workers will go out to other stores and shops that are opened to them.

This afternoon at 2:30 the Presbytery of Chesapeake met in the church and examined Rev. T. W. Hooper, jr., and received him into the Presbytery. An order was taken for his installation as pastor of the church at Culpeper.

Tonight the services in the church will begin promptly at 7:30 with a song service, led by the Dailey quartette and the choir, and the preaching by Mr. Flinn.

SALE AND RECITAL OF OLD SONGS.

All preparations are perfected for the sale and recital for the benefit of the Free Kindergarten tomorrow afternoon and evening. No one should miss the opportunity to secure some pretty and useful Christmas gifts at the sale. The following programme will be rendered at eight o'clock: Mrs. Fowler, "Annie Laurie;" Miss Rowen, "Kathleen Mavourneen;" Mr. Ogden, "How Can I Leave Thee;" Miss Harding, "Robin Adair;" Mrs. De Dier, "Comin' Thro' the Rye;" Mr. Waller, "The Heart Bowed Down;" Mrs. Raymond Hulfish, "The Last Rose of Summer;" Miss Graves, "Rock Me to Sleep Mother;" Mrs. Woolls, "Bonnie Sweet Bessie;" Mr. Maddox, "Ben Bolt;" Miss Smoot, "Good Bye;" Mrs. Thomas Hulfish, "Bonnie Doon."

ROBBERIES.

At an early yesterday morning thieves entered the store of S H. Lynn & Co., on the north side of King street, near Pitt, and stole six pairs of shoes, valued at $25. Mr. R. L. Myers saw two men in an alley in the rear of his house and shot at them. The police soon appeared on the scene, but the thieves escaped.

About 2 o'clock yesterday morning thieves also broke a window in the store of Webster & Kirby, 718 King street. They secured but 50 cents, which was in the cash drawer. Mr. Webster, who lives over the store, saw one of the thieves leaving the store, but all the guns in the place had been taken to pieces the previous day and could not be used.

TELEGRAPHERS MEET.

The Telegraphers' Union composed of the Pennsylvania, B. & O., C. & O., Southern and R., F. & P. railroads, held an interesting meeting at their lodge room in Sarepta Hall, Saturday. After some routine business they were addressed by President Perham, of the National Telegraphers' Union. After the meeting the members, about 75 in number, were entertained at a sumptuous supper at Rammel's Restaurant.

YESTERDAY.

Yesterday was almost like an Indian summer day. The sun shone brightly the peculiar haze of middle fall was perceptible and the temperature was warm enough to be enjoyable, but sufficiently bracing to be exhilarating. Many people were on the streets and many more enjoyed strolls or drives in the country. The churches were all well attended and the services in many of them were of unusual interest.

THE OLD DAIRY HOMESTEAD.

Judging from rehearsals this play which will be presented in Lyceum Hall, December 10, by the Dramatic Club, promises to be one of the best ever staged in this city by amateurs. Specialties between the acts will be given by professional people engaged for this production. It will be worth the time and money to witness this play.

WILL PROBATED.

The will of the late John W. Burke was probated today. He left all his interest in the Banking House of Burke & Herbert to his three sons, Julian T., Harry R. and N. P. T. Burke; his gold watch and chain to his son Julian T. Burke. The remainder of his estate is left to his wife for her life and at her death to be equally divided among his children.

CLEARED.

The Norwegian steamer Garbaldi which arrived here on Friday last was docked at the shipyard, cleared yesterday for Nova Scotia, having been loaded by the Virginia Timber Company with ship timber in forty-eight hours. The English steamer Barbarassa which was expected here last week, was ordered to another port.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

There were but two cases before the Police Court this morning. A stranger, who was charged with desecrating a tomb, was fined $10, and a soldier, who had been arrested for drunken and disorderly conduct, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

MONDAY EVENING. DEC. 9, 1907.

BLOODY SCENES IN GENOA.

Giuseppe Quattrocchi and his wife cut their landlord, Anthony Bianchi, to pieces with knives in Genoa yesterday, slashed his wife and her nursing baby to death, strangled three older children and were themselves held by a maddened mob in front of a speeding electric car and ground to bits.

The wholesale butchery followed a trifling dispute over rent. Bianchi, a street car conductor, had sublet a room in his cottage in the suburb of San Fierdarena to the Quattrocchis.

The misunderstanding between the two families does not seem to have been serious, and Bianchi knocked at his guests' door before leaving for work today, evidently thinking it could be settled in a few moments. The instant he spoke Mrs. Quattrocchi attacked him with her knife. Her husband rushed to her assistance and together they drove their victim into his own kitchen, where they literally cut his body to pieces.

Attracted by his cries, his wife, with her baby in her arms, dashed into the room, striving to protect her husband by throwing herself upon his form. Mrs. Quattrocchi herself, according to her husband's story, dragged the woman aside, and while he finished Bianchi stabbed the mother and baby to death.

The other three children the eldest aged nine—had crawled under a bed in the meantime, hoping to escape. To have spared them, the murderers believed, would only be to insure their own deaths, so all three were hauled out and strangled.

From the Bianchi home the Quattrocchis fled in such haste, however, that their bloodstained hands and garments quickly attracted attention.

Run down by a mob, Quattrocchi confessed the crime, for which he endeavored to shift the responsibility upon his wife. The woman was stubbornly silent, but the bloody knife in her pocket seemed to confirm her husband's story, and the method of holding them in front of a trolley car was resorted to as the only convenient means by which they could be disposed of quickly enough to save them from rescue by the police.

The husband, as the greater coward, was given the privilege of dying first. His wife looked on coolly as he perished, screaming, and went with perfect composure to her own death.

The motorman, whose aid was enlisted, put on full speed, while the Bianchis' avengers held the victims by the head and feet across the rails and scattered the two bodies along many yards of track.

Here's Good Advice.
